

Kris & Carol

Love writes the most beautiful stories.

A message from

Kris and Carol

Thank you for taking the time to get to know us. We know these pages represent so much more than photos and stories, and we are truly grateful that you've chosen to spend a few moments learning about our lives.

We hope to provide a glimpse of the home we've built together, one filled with laughter, faith, family traditions, and a genuine desire to love others. Whether we're sharing dessert around the table, dancing with family, spending time with our dogs, or serving our community, the moments we treasure most are the ones spent together.

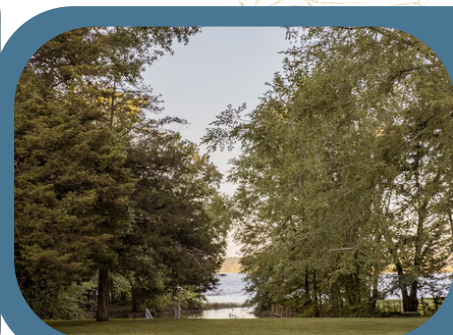

For many years, we have dreamed of becoming parents. While our path has looked different than we once imagined, it has only strengthened our belief that family is built through love, commitment, and showing up for one another every single day. We are ready to welcome a child into our home where they will be celebrated, encouraged to dream boldly, and surrounded by patience, guidance, laughter, and unconditional love.

Although we cannot fully understand the emotions you are carrying, we deeply admire the courage, thoughtfulness, and love behind every decision you make. We are honored that you would consider us as part of your journey.

Should our paths become one, your child will grow up knowing they are deeply loved. They will be embraced not only by us, but also by a large and diverse circle of grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces, nephews, and lifelong friends who cannot wait to welcome them with open arms. They will always know they belong, they are cherished, and they are loved beyond measure.

With gratitude,

Kris & Carol

I'm someone who believes that the strongest relationships are built on trust, honesty, and showing up for the people you love. Family has always been at the center of my life, and I strive to be a steady, dependable presence for those around me. Whether it's Carol, my family, or my friends, I'm often the person people call when they need advice or a different perspective. I enjoy listening, thinking through challenges, and helping others find practical solutions.

I work as a workforce forecaster, where I use strategic thinking and data to help organizations plan for the future. I earned my bachelor's degree, and have always believed that learning opens doors and creates opportunities. I enjoy solving problems and finding thoughtful, common-sense approaches to life's challenges.

When I'm not working, you'll usually find me traveling with Carol, watching sports, or enjoying live music. I love discovering new places, experiencing different cultures, and making memories with the people I care about most. Whether we're exploring a new city or spending a quiet evening at home, I value quality time together.

More than anything, I've always wanted to be a dad. I look forward to encouraging a child's interests, cheering them on as they grow, teaching them life's lessons, and being someone they can always count on. My hope is to create a home where they feel safe, supported, and deeply loved—a place where they know they can dream big, be themselves, and always have someone in their corner.

I am someone who believes that love is best shown through actions. Whether I'm supporting my family, serving my community, or encouraging someone to chase their dreams, I find joy in helping others feel seen, valued, and loved.

My family would describe me as compassionate, dependable, and the one who brings everyone together. I love creating meaningful traditions—from dancing with family at gatherings to sharing a seafood boil around the table. Some of my happiest moments are the simple ones: enjoying a cup of tea on the porch, watching our dogs play, or spending time with the people I love most.

Professionally, I have dedicated my career to serving others through the U.S. Army, where leadership, integrity, and compassion have shaped who I am. Outside of work, I founded Blossom Girl to help women and girls access essential feminine hygiene products because I believe every person deserves dignity, opportunity, and encouragement.

Above all else, my greatest dream has always been to become a mom. I look forward to creating a home where a child is unconditionally loved, encouraged to be exactly who they are, and given every opportunity to grow with confidence, kindness, and joy. I cannot wait to celebrate life's little moments together, cheer them on through every milestone, and remind them every day just how deeply they are loved.

Our Story

06

We met in 2014, and from the very beginning, it felt as though our paths had been leading us to one another all along. As our friendship blossomed into love, we quickly realized we had found the person we wanted to spend forever with.

Our wedding song, Broken Road, perfectly captures our journey and reminds us that every step along the way led us to each other. In one of our favorite places, Gatlinburg, Tennessee, surrounded by memories of countless mini vacations and holiday celebrations with friends and family, Kris asked me to spend the rest of my life with him. It was the perfect beginning to the life we've continued to build together.

Today, we're grateful for every twist and turn that brought us here. We've created a home filled with love, laughter, and meaningful traditions, and our greatest hope is to share that love with a child and create a lifetime of cherished memories together.

Choosing Adoption

07

We discovered that family isn't defined by how it's formed, but by the love that fills it.

Like many hopeful parents, we explored several paths to growing our family. After much reflection, prayer, and many heartfelt conversations, we realized that what mattered most wasn't how we became parents, but that we had the opportunity to love and raise a child. We know that family is built through love, commitment, and the moments shared together each day. Choosing adoption has filled our hearts with hope, and we are incredibly grateful for the opportunity to grow our family in this beautiful way.

Our Home

Our home is a three bedroom, 5 bath house where laughter, togetherness, and making memories come naturally. With plenty of space to play, learn, and grow, it's designed for both family moments and celebrations with friends and loved ones. Whether we're cooking in the kitchen, watching movies, drinking tea on the back porch or spending time together in the backyard around the fire pit, there's always room for connection.

One of the things we love most about where we live is our community. We're just minutes from beautiful parks, scenic walking and biking trails, exciting playgrounds, and family-friendly splash pads and water parks that make summer days unforgettable. From afternoon walks and picnics to outdoor adventures and seasonal community events, there are endless opportunities for a child to explore, play, and create lasting memories.

Our Home

09

Just across the hall from our primary bedroom is the room we eagerly look forward to transforming into a nursery, a cozy space filled with love, comfort, and new beginnings. With two inviting living areas, we look forward to filling our home with the laughter of a child.

Meet the Boys

Our two beloved dogs are affectionately known as “the boys.” Sir Edward, our miniature Dachshund, is the oldest and the king of naps. He loves to snuggle, burrow under the nearest blanket, and curl up in his favorite dog bed. King Henry, our playful Goldendoodle, is always ready for an adventure. Whether he’s watching for birds or deer at the lake house or making new friends, he brings endless joy wherever he goes.

The boys attend “daycare” where they’re spoiled by the staff who love them almost as much as we do. They are well-mannered, know their commands, and are always hoping someone might accidentally drop a tasty snack.

Our Extended Family

Family is at the heart of everything we do. While Kris experienced the profound loss of both of his parents, their love, values, and the lessons they shared continue to shape the way we live our lives. We honor their memory by extending kindness, putting family first, and cherishing the time we spend with those we love. Their legacy reminds us to never take a single moment together for granted.

Our Extended Family

Although we miss them deeply, we are incredibly blessed by the family who surrounds us today. We have embraced each other's families as our own, and our future child will be welcomed by a large, loving network of grandparents, siblings, aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces, nephews, and lifelong friends

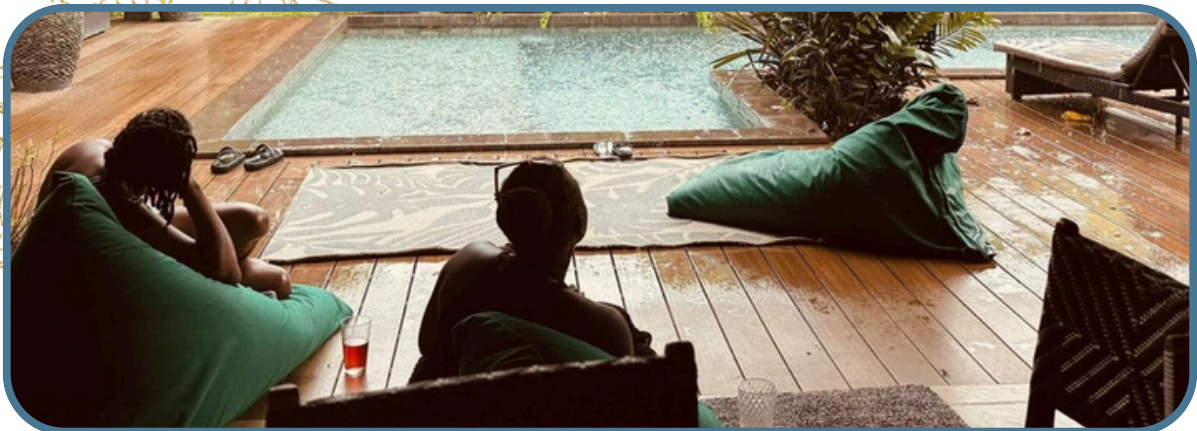

Our path to parenthood may be unique, but our love for our future child is limitless.

Our Friends

14

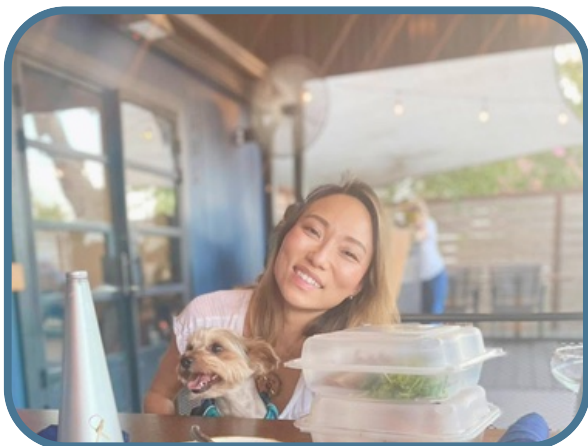

Throughout our journey together, we've learned that family is not only the one you're born into, but also the one you build. Because of Carol's military service, we've had the opportunity to call several places home, and with each move we've formed meaningful friendships that have grown into lifelong relationships. Those experiences have taught us the importance of building a strong community wherever we are, and many of the friends we've met along the way have truly become family.

We believe some of life's greatest blessings are the people who choose to walk beside you through every season. Our friendships are rooted in love, trust, and unwavering support, creating a village that celebrates life's joys and stands together through its challenges. Our future child will be surrounded by relatives and an extended family of cherished friends who will encourage them, cheer them on, and love them unconditionally throughout their life.

Our Hobbies

16

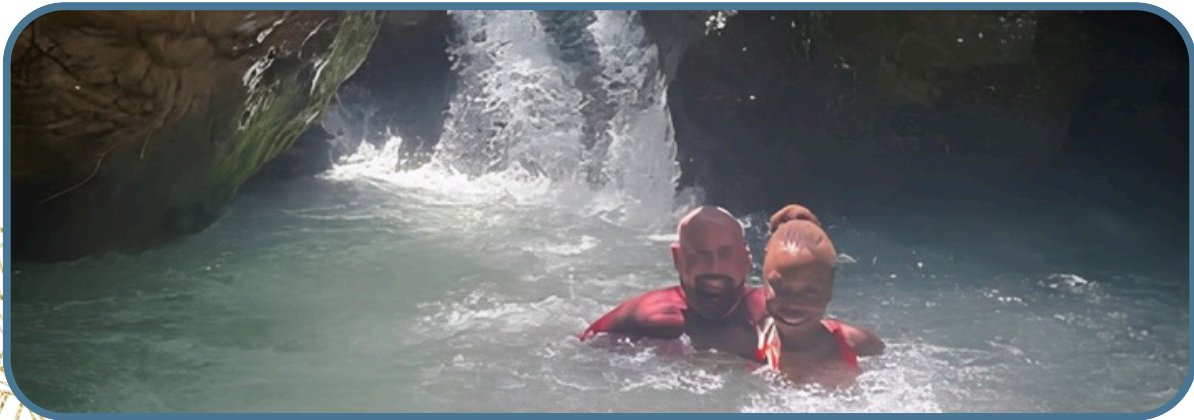

Traveling is one of our favorite ways to spend time together and create lasting memories. Whether we're relaxing in the mountains, enjoying peaceful days at the lake, or exploring the beautiful islands of the Caribbean, we love experiencing new places and cultures. Our most recent adventure took us to the beautiful island of St. Maarten, where we enjoyed the breathtaking beaches, local culture, and unforgettable views. We look forward to sharing our love of travel with a child by exploring the world together and teaching them to appreciate the beauty, diversity, and experiences that each new destination has to offer.

17

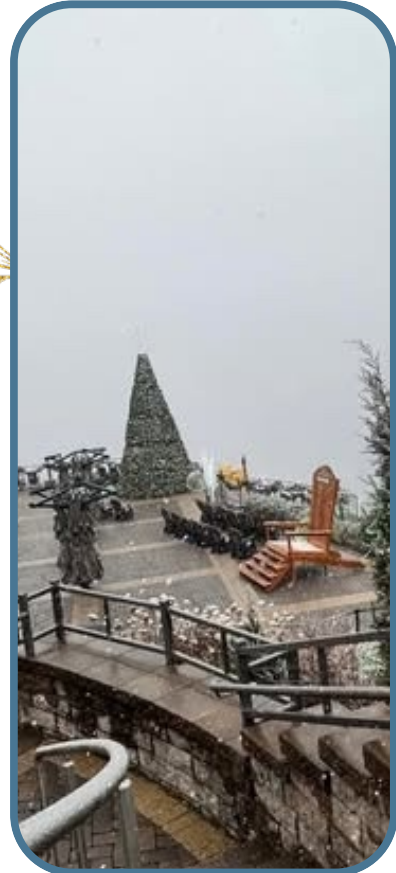

We love saying “yes” to new adventures and making memories along the way. From hiking through the rainforests of Costa Rica to white water rafting in Maine, we’ve embraced opportunities to step outside our comfort zones and experience the beauty of the world together. We know our adventures will naturally change as we grow our family, and we couldn’t be more excited for that. We look forward to discovering new parks, taking family road trips, exploring nature trails, and one day watching the world through a child’s eyes as we create a lifetime of adventures together.

18

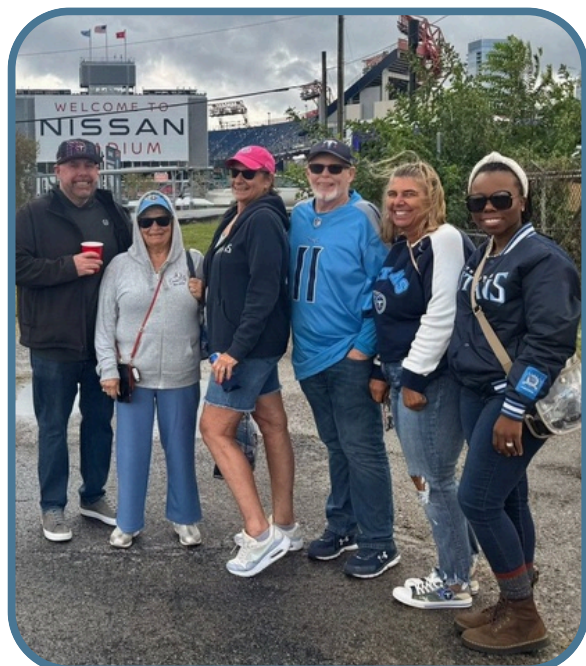

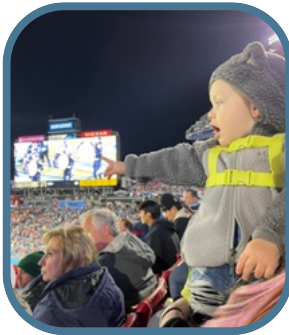

The mountains hold a special place in our hearts. Kris grew up making memories there, and over the years Carol has grown to love them just as deeply. Throughout the year, we welcome friends and family to our cabin as a place to slow down, reconnect, and enjoy time together. One of our favorite moments is sitting on the porch, listening to the distant whistle of the Dollywood trolley echo across the valley, a simple reminder to pause and appreciate the beauty around us.

19

Before the game ever begins, you'll usually find us tailgating outside Nissan Stadium with family and friends. It's more than a game day tradition; it's a time to gather, share great food, laugh together, and make memories with the people we love most. Whether we're celebrating a win or simply enjoying each other's company, those moments remind us that the best traditions are the ones spent together, and we can't wait to share these moments.

We believe that learning extends far beyond the classroom and that some of life's greatest lessons come from exploring the world around us. Whether we're visiting art museums, touring historical landmarks, attending live performances, or discovering a new exhibit, we enjoy experiences that inspire curiosity and meaningful conversations. We hope to nurture a lifelong love of learning by encouraging our future child to ask questions, explore new ideas, and appreciate the rich history, creativity, and cultures that make our world so fascinating.

Thank You

Thank you for taking the time to learn about us and for considering us as adoptive parents. We recognize that this is a deeply personal decision, and we are truly honored that you would consider our family.

We promise to provide a home filled with unconditional love, encouragement, laughter, and unwavering support. Thank you for considering us to be part of your story, and we wish you peace and strength as you make the decision that is right for you and your child.

Sincerely,

Kris and Carol
